Genius Zone Task Audit, Artist Management (India)

Purpose: To identify which tasks only you can do, which can be delegated, and which are a waste of your time entirely. Run this audit at the start of your management practice and every 6 months as your roster grows.

The framework has four zones, borrowed from Gay Hendricks' The Big Leap:

- Incompetence Zone: Tasks you are bad at and should never be doing.
- Competence Zone: Tasks you can do, but so can others.
- Excellence Zone: Tasks you are very good at, but they drain you.
- Genius Zone: Tasks that only you can do at this level, that energise you.

The goal is to move as much of your time as possible into the Genius Zone.

Step 1: Time Audit

For two weeks, log every task you do for 15 minutes or more. Be honest.

Date Task: ____ Time spent (mins): ____ Zone (assign after): ____ Date Task: ____ Time spent (mins): ____ Zone (assign after): ____

Step 2: Categorise Each Task

INCOMPETENCE ZONE, Stop doing these or hire a specialist immediately.

Common examples in Indian artist

management: _____

- Accounting and GST returns (hire a CA)
- Graphic design for social media (hire a designer or use Canva with a template)
- Website development (hire a developer or use Wix/Squarespace)
- Audio engineering / mixing (hire an engineer)
- Video editing (hire an editor)

Your list: _____

Task Why you are doing it: ____ What to do about it: ____ Task Why you are doing it: ____ What to do about it: ____

COMPETENCE ZONE, Delegate these when you can afford to.

Common examples: _____

- Responding to routine booking enquiries (can be handled by an assistant with a template)
- Uploading music to distribution platforms
- Posting to social media (once strategy is set)
- Tracking press coverage
- Basic admin, scheduling calls, filing contracts
- Following up on unpaid invoices

Your list: _____

Task Who could do this: ____ Timeline to delegate: ____ Task Who could do this: ____ Timeline to delegate: ____

EXCELLENCE ZONE, Do these, but notice the energy cost.

Common examples: _____

- Negotiating fees for shows (you're good at it but it's stressful)
- Managing artist expectations and emotions (you handle it well but it takes a toll)
- Writing pitches to labels, brands, or festivals (you can do it, but it takes time)
- Reviewing contracts line by line

Your list: _____

Task Energy cost (H/M/L): ____ Can this be shared or reduced?: ____ Task Energy cost (H/M/L): ____ Can this be shared or reduced?: ____

GENIUS ZONE, Protect and maximise these.

Common examples: _____

- Identifying which artists have something genuinely worth developing
- Knowing which opportunity is right for which artist at which moment
- Building relationships that open doors (with labels, bookers, DSP editorial)
- Strategic thinking about an artist's long-term positioning
- The conversation that changes how an artist thinks about their career

Your list: _____

Task Why only you can do this: ____ How to make more time for it: ____ Task Why only you can do this: ____ How to make more time for it: ____

Step 3: Weekly Schedule Redesign

Target: 60%+ of your weekly hours in Excellence or Genius Zone.

Current weekly breakdown: _____

Incompetence Hours per week: ____ % of total: ____ Competence Hours per week: ____ % of total: ____
Excellence Hours per week: ____ % of total: ____ Genius Hours per week: ____ % of total: ____

TOTAL Hours per week: ____ % of total: ____

Target weekly breakdown: _____

Incompetence Hours per week: 0 % of total: 0% Competence Hours per week: ____ % of total:

<20% Excellence Hours per week: ____ % of total: ~30% Genius Hours per week: ____ % of total:

>50% TOTAL Hours per week: ____ % of total: 100%

Step 4: India-Specific Considerations

Tasks that feel like Genius Zone but are actually Excellence Zone (be honest):

- WhatsApp communication with artists at all hours, this feels personal but it is actually a management boundary issue. Set clear communication hours.
- Being on-site for every show, important early on, but as your roster grows, delegate show-day logistics to a tour manager or assistant.
- Personally following up with every press contact, build a PR professional relationship so this is shared.

Tasks that seem like Incompetence but are actually critical to do yourself in early-stage Indian management:

- Direct outreach to venue programmers, in India, personal relationships matter more than cold emails. You cannot delegate this until you have a team member who has been with you long enough to carry those relationships.
- First meetings with labels and brands on behalf of an artist, the initial trust establishment requires you.

Step 5: Action Plan

Immediate (this week): _____

- Stop doing: _____
- Delegate to: _____
- Hire for: _____

Next 30 days: _____

- _____
- _____

Next 90 days: _____

- _____
